vs.)	No. 3:14-CV-0483-M-BH

ROBERT MUELLER, et. al,)
Defendants.)	Referred to U.S. Magistrate Judge

FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATION

Pursuant to Special Order No. 3-251, this case has been automatically referred for screening.

Based on the relevant filings and applicable law, the case should be dismissed without prejudice for failure to prosecute or follow orders of the court.

I. BACKGROUND

On January 3, 2014, the plaintiff filed a civil complaint against the defendants in the Eastern District of Texas (See doc. 1.) On January 13, 2014, the case was transferred to the Northern District. (See doc. 4.) By order dated February 10, 2014, the plaintiff was notified that he had thirty days to pay the $400.00 filing fee or submit an application to proceed in forma pauperis (IFP). (doc. 9.) The order also specifically warned that failure to timely pay the filing fee or submit an application to proceed IFP could result in dismissal of the case for failure to prosecute. Id. More than thirty days have passed, but the plaintiff has not paid the fee or filed anything else in this case.

II. INVOLUNTARY DISMISSAL

Rule 41(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure permits a court to dismiss an action sua sponte for failure to prosecute or follow orders of the court. McCullough v. Lynaugh, 835 F.2d 1126, 1127 (5th Cir. 1988) (§ 1983 prisoner action). This authority flows from a court's inherent power to control its docket, prevent undue delays in the disposition of pending cases, and avoid congested court calendars. Link v. Wabash R.R. Co., 370 U.S. 626, 629-31 (1962). By order dated February 10, 2014, the plaintiff was given thirty days to pay the filing fee or submit an IFP application, and he was specifically warned that failure to do so could result in dismissal of this action. Because he failed to follow a court order or otherwise show that he intends to proceed with his case, his case should be dismissed under Rule 41(b) for failure to prosecute or follow orders of the court.

III. RECOMMENDATION

This case should be dismissed without prejudice under Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(b) for failure to prosecute or follow orders of the court, unless the plaintiff either pays the filing fee or submit an application to proceed IFP within the time for objecting to this recommendation, or by some other deadline set by the Court.

SIGNED this 28th day of March, 2014.
